During financial year 2014-15, due to volatility in the global market, there was a fall in export turnover of the Company. However, with increased focus in the domestic market, the Company improved its domestic sales and was able to compensate the fall in export turnover by a surplus in the domestic market. As margins in export sales are better than domestic sales margins, pursuant to the change in sales mix as stated above, the topline of the company improved while the bottomline decreased. The Company had manufacturing facilities spread over different locations in the country for undertaking different processes of the same product. This resulted in high operational and transport costs. Major raw materials used by the Company like Tin Free Steel, Aluminium, etc. are imported. Normally, exchange fluctuations for imports are naturally hedged by collection of export proceeds. During the last year, due to lower exports, the Company had to make import payments by buying foreign currency from the open FOREX market. As a result, the Company had to incur exchange losses on some occasions, on account of differentials in exchange rates prevailing on the date of actual purchase and date of actual payment of the invoice.

2) Steps taken or proposed to be taken for improvement:

The Company has restructured some of the manufacturing processes and brought various operations under one roof to achieve cost reduction and improved controls. The benefit of this restructuring exercise will be reflected better in the forthcoming results. In the current fiscal, while prices of major raw materials like TFS and Aluminium are on a downward trend, the Company has managed to maintain the sales prices of our products at same levels as that of the previous fiscal. This is expected to result in better margins for the Company's products. Moreover, the order volumes of the Company have increased in comparison to last year.

3) Expected increase in productivity and profits in measurable terms:

The steps taken/proposed to be taken for improvement are expected to make a positive impact on growing revenue and containing costs. This is expected to improve the performance and the profitability of the Company in coming years.
